SWINDLER FLED WITH GIRL

Carried Off $7,000,000; Love
Notes Found in Stock
Promoter's Desk

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Leo Koretz, is now supposed to have disappeared with at least $7,000,000 in actual cash. Investigators have unfolded, bit by bit, evidence which reveals one of the most monumental financial crashes in the history of Chicago.

It is believed he fled with a girl. The developments might be summarized as follows:

1.—Attorney Le Broky, representing the Koretz family, turned over $25,000 in cash to State's Attorney Crowe as part of $250,000 which relatives of the man had collected for the sale of stock. The remainder was promised tomorrow.

2.—The office of Koretz in the Majestic Theatre building and Drake Hotel were seized by State's Attorney Crowe's operative and everything seized as possible assets. Lists of investors and letters were found.

3.—The prosecution was prepared to go before the grand jury today and ask for indictments for operating a confidence game and larceny.

4.—The grand jury proceedings were to be started at once so that certain assets, such as automobiles, and personal effects, could be held by the State's Attorney and to provide for a seizure of money in case Koretz is apprehended.

5.—The mother of Koretz was critically ill and grieved over the loss of $4,000,000 in the scheme. The wife and family of Koretz were destitute.

6.—Nimmo Black, an aviator, told Assistant State Attorney Klarber that he had sold an airplane a week ago to a man named "Arnon," who said he was going to Honduras.

7.—Mr. Crowe ordered subpoenas to be issued to require three banks, Foreman Brothers, the State Bank of Chicago, and Greenbaum and Rose, to produce all records.

SEARLES TO TESTIFY IN PROBE

Millionaire Will Tell How He Was "Shaken Down"
for $50,000

By EMMETT FORD
Eleanor Barnes, one of the alleged "hissies" in the $30,000 shake-down of millionaire Albert Victor Searles, is likely to be a witness in the new and sweeping probe of the Boston blackmail ring being conducted by Suffolk grand jury, now on its second day.

Searles is also expected to be a witness and to tell how he was "shaken down" for $50,000.

GUNMAN SUSPECT CAUGHT IN CHASE

Mounted Officer John J. McGardie captured a gunman in the South End today who, it is alleged, had just fled up Samuel Starr, a Broadway extension down breaker at the mouth of a gun.

The capture was made after a exciting chase by McGardie on foot and horse back.

Victims of recent holdups in West Roxbury have been summoned to try to identify the prisoner as the man who robbed them. He is John Chulien of New York.

FIRE SCARE STORY BY SPRINKLER

Draws Out a Threatening Blaze in the Basement of Fort Hill Oil Concern

A fire early today in the building at Franklin and Battery streets, and numbered 73 Battery street, threatened the surrounding property.

The basement and first floor of the building are occupied by the Underhay Oil Company, dealers in lubricating oils, and the floors were thoroughly saturated with oil, according to the firemen.

Several explosions occurred during the progress of the fire, and Chief John O. Taber stated, that, but for the sprinkler system recently installed, the fire would have proved disastrous.

Deputy Chief Edward J. Shallow and Fireman Robert Callahan of Engine No. 24 were slightly injured. Deputy Chief Shallow was struck on the head by a beam and knocked down, while Callahan wrenched his back moving heavy drums of oil.

The fire started from an overheated furnace pipe. The damage was estimated at $5,000.

By nightfall, the weatherman says, the temperature will be down around 25, the coldest so far this season.

Girl office workers had ray looks as they tramped into town. The snow, whipped by a sharp wind, brought raw blooms to cheeks and made Santa Claus trimmings in shop windows look more natural than they have since December arrived.

The police think the goat is of its apple sauce and ate the coat and chain.

FIRST TOUCH OF WINTER HITS HUB

Baltimore Ship Helpless in the Gale Off Cape Henry; Cold
Weather is on Way Here

The Charleston Navy Yard picked up an F. O. S. oil today from the steamer Gaston, of Baltimore, helpless in a gale and heavy sea 50 miles off Cape Henry, Va.

"Our circulating pump is gone and we are making no headway" against a strong northerly gale. Also heavy seas. Send help!" The Gaston is a coastwise passenger freight liner of the Baltimore Steam Packet line.

Winter slipped into Boston today. Snow fell and the New Haven took its annual fling. They are anonymous. A train due at the South Station at 8:40 arrived at 9:15. For 35 minutes it was stalled at the Back Bay Station.

Boston got its promised snow and temperature drop when the tail of the blizzard which originated in the southwest, causing more than a dozen deaths, reached here to take twisted furnaces and prepared for work.

By nightfall, the weatherman says, the temperature will be down around 25, the coldest so far this season.

Blanche Paul, divorced wife of Scott W. Paul, was the first witness called by the grand jury. She was on the witness stand an hour. Her former husband, Scott Paul, will testify today.

Other witnesses who will testify are James E. Wood, manager of the detective bureau; Michael J. Lyons, one of the eight co-defendants at the interrupted trial of William J.

IRISH REPUBLIC ENVOYS TO SPEAK

The Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, envoy of the Irish Republic, and Miss Laura Comerford, one of the foremost leaders of O'Connell's No. 30, who arrived from Ireland, will address a meeting in the Cornhill Hotel, Sunday evening, at 8:15 o'clock. Hon. George M. Curran, of the Governor's Council, will preside. It is asserted that no speakers are better fitted to present the facts of the situation in Ireland than O'Flanagan and Miss Comerford.

The meeting will be under the auspices of the Massachusetts branch of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

Out to sea shipping sought gales and heavy seas.

Reports from the West were gloomy and bright. While New Mexico was thawing out of the worst blizzard in 35 years, 15 persons having frozen to death. Ranchers in Imperial Valley, California, saw a lettuce crop advance in value $1,000,000 overnight.

All because a fall in temperature produced a cut and crispness to leaves and made possible immediate shipments to Eastern markets. In Northern California a rainfall brought joy following a long drought.

The first snow of the Winter in New York fell before dawn. Only in spots did it remain long enough to give a real Winter tinge. Yesterday was the warmest Dec. 13 in the city's history, the mercury touching 54 degrees.

Snow fell today as far South as Alabama, and a cold wave was predicted to penetrate even Southern Florida.

FOREMAN KILLED AS DITCH CAVES IN

Lawrence, Dec. 14.—While superintending the construction of a sewer on Phillips street, South Lawrence, Joseph H. Lawrence, forty-two years old, unmarried, of No. 40 Grand street, was killed by a cave-in. For twenty minutes his fellow workers, members of the police and fire departments dug frantically to unearth Lawrence, who they reached him by his head.

Twenty-two automobiles with more than 300 passengers were jammed in the street, and the highway to the city was blocked. The bodies of the victims were found in the ditch. Five members of a Mexican family and a sheep herder standing with a match in one hand were found from death between Corona and Virginia in Gladstone County, New Mexico.

The bodies of the other victims of the blizzard were found Wednesday.

Several indictments for misuse of the mail to defraud were to be asked.

One theory is that Kovera escaped on the fast ocean-going power boat, the Flying Fox, formerly owned jointly by Jacob M. Schiff, Charles Broadway House and C. K. O. Miller.

With him, it is believed, there may be a young woman. According to investigators, five letters addressed to Kovera by a young woman living in Winthrop avenue were found in the fugitive's pockets.

'CAL' FAVORS GERMAN LOAN; URGES AMERICANS TO HELP

Washington, Dec. 14.—President Coolidge may easily have the president to speak possible the possibility of Germany as an international loan to provide for the purchase of industrial goods, but desire to encourage the attempts of private charity in the United States to relieve the situation of the German people.

The President continued today on the question of German relief, and also in connection to have discussed the situation with Secretary Hoover. Later Senator La Follette, chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance, and the German relief campaign in Washington, that Mr. Coolidge was "very desirous that the private charity that is being organized should go on."

SHAW SCOTTS AT JOAN OF ARC STORY

London, Dec. 14.—George Bernard Shaw, who is writing a play based on the life of Saint Joan of Arc, declares that the Maid of Orleans was a poor, friendless, unlearned shepherd girl. Mr. Shaw declares that her family was not above prosperous, but prominent, and her father the leading doctor. However, she herself was highly intelligent and capable. Mr. Shaw declares that all the evidence shows she was not the pale, frail beauty she is pictured on the stage, but a physically robust, plain girl, who was obstinate because of her faith and her courage.

We're Doing Well
Oliver Twist Bonus
Poor Danish King
Current Events
—By Arthur Brisbane—
Copyright, 1932, Hear Co.

THE HARDING memorial week is drawing to a close. President Harding was a good American, did his best, and died in the service of the people. Millions of Americans that will want to be represented in that memorial may communicate with the Harding Memorial Association, No. 1414 F street, Washington, D. C.

HOW IS the country, as regards prosperity? Answer: Pretty well, thanks. Before you went to bed last night you read these head lines: "The flood of extra dividends continues."
"Our gold imports gain heavily in November. Inflow exceeded only twice in the last two years."
"Rate for call money declines to 4 1/2 per cent. Stocks advance in active trading. All departments improve, bonds firm."
We are not doing badly.

THE BONUS BILL is back to Congress once more, with about as good a chance as Oliver Twist had when he asked for his second installment of bounty money—assuming that the Administration has its way. It is certain to be vetoed by the President.

WISKE PEOPLE, however, say that the President declares against the bonus, thus pleasing "the big fellows" needed at all Republican elections. The Republican majority will vote the bill over. "Then the 'big fellows' will say: 'Coolidge did his best.'"

A NARCHIST has threatened to kill the King of Denmark. His life is one exciting chapter. From a revolution in the North Pole to doubling the rate around his palace. The man who is the "big fellow" needed at all Republican elections. The Republican majority will vote the bill over. "Then the 'big fellows' will say: 'Coolidge did his best.'"

ENGLAND has given up temporarily the scheme to return to the gold standard. That is the first result, probably, of the abortive victory in the last election. Professor Henry Fairfield Osborn, head of the American Museum of Natural History, told Judge of prehistoric animals, says: "The best American stock is rapidly dying out." Harvard and Yale would be vitally important if they had to depend for their students upon a note of graduates.

THAT doesn't mean necessity, that the "best American stock is dying out." It means that men lacking energy and ambition are not having children. And that's an excellent thing for the American stock. As between a Yale or Harvard graduate, who sits in a chair and smokes, sucking the head of his cane and mourning over the dead old colonial days, and a young immigrant proud of his wife's ancestry, who will choose the young immigrant.

NAB 2 IN DRIVE TO CURB THEFTS FROM AUTOS

Those of Christmas parade band leaders, liquor purveyors and other persons, who parked automobiles in the hotel and shopping districts have become so numerous that Captain Herbert W. Goodwin, of the large garage street police today assigned patrolmen to special duty in the thoroughfares to capture the thieves. The first fruit of Captain Goodwin's protective effort was the capture of two young men who were charged with stealing from the automobile of Henry Davis of Franklin, parked near Knox and Kingston streets.

They were seen by Special Officer Joseph Sullivan and Joseph Murphy, who gave chase and arrested them several blocks away. During the pursuit one of the men threw the suitcase into another automobile.

The policemen made a mental note of the number of the car and returned after the chase. Later the suitcase was recovered. The prisoners were John Cronin, who said he recently came here from the West and is living at the Hotel Royal, and John Kilbuck. The latter is well known to the police as a thief and a trouble maker. He is also recognized as a brownie who worked from Deer Island some time ago.

KING BORIS TO WED RUMAN PRINCESS

Bucharest, Dec. 14.—The news paper report that a wedding is to be celebrated in Paris soon by King Boris of Rumania and Princess Elena of Greece, a daughter of King George of Greece, has been confirmed. An engagement party is expected to result. The wedding will be celebrated in the Grand Palace of the Rumanian capital.

BIG CROWD FLEES CHURCH FAIR FIRE

Lawrence, Dec. 14.—Hundreds of patrons of the annual church fair, which was being held in the Episcopal Church, South Union and Pine streets, South Lawrence, fled the building when a flame in the basement filled the church with smoke. Firemen soon extinguished the blaze, believed to have been started from an overhauled furnace. Damage to the church was slight. The fair and banquet continued after being suspended less than half an hour.

FRANCE AGREES TO NEGOTIATE

PARIS, Dec. 14. (L.N.S.).—France considers the German industrialists in the Ruhr and the Reich (the German State) have fulfilled the necessary conditions to allow restoration of normal relations between Paris and Berlin. It was announced at the Foreign Office today.

Dr. Van Hoesch, representing the German government, will have a conference with Premier Poincare tomorrow.

Foreign Office officials said Premier Poincare will refuse to discuss the Rhineland question, movement, maintaining that it is purely a domestic problem.

Poincare will insist that all questions regarding reparations be addressed to the Inter-Allied Reparations Commission. He is willing, however, to take up any proposals from Germany regarding an agreement to allow the return of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

Before the foreign office statement was issued, the political newspaper "Courrier de la Semaine" had appeared with an article criticizing the Norwegian Minister to France, stating in effect that Germany had requested direct negotiations between Paris and Berlin. The article also stated that German relations can be resumed between Paris and Berlin "look most promising" by agreement.

The Matin commented: "The moment has arrived to re-establish peace. But precautions should be taken against provocations. All the allies should participate in this widest possible negotiations relating not only to the Ruhr and Rhineland, but to German disarmament and allied military control over Germany."

Somerville Aldermen have adopted a report of the majority of the Finance Committee recommending raising the Mayor's salary from $4,000 to $5,000.

At the end of two weeks she had as much as $100 in her pocket. She was working at the same factory. She had a chance to get work running a machine in a shoe factory. They allowed two weeks for "teaching" experienced help. She was paid $5 a week during that period.

It was necessary to cut down on board and room so she tried a small room for $2 and was given two meals a day for $5 a week. She ate no lunches unless the kitchen women with whom she lived gave her something to take along to work. Most of her savings were eaten up during the two weeks and then she was paid ten dollars to leave her job.

ACTRESS CHARGED WITH MALICIOUS MISCHIEF AFTER ROW OVER ALIMONY

Francis C. Dale, attorney, charged that when she came to his office to see about back alimony, which, she says, amounts to $2,000, she broke the glass in a door with the metal end of a dog leash.

Mrs. Herrman, who said she lives in the Herrmans Hotel, told the court she was unknown to them. She had not seen the dog leash. Mrs. Herrman did not deny breaking the glass, but explained she became excited when she was offered only $500 in settlement, and when a Mr. Dwyer, who she alleges has offices with Dale, assisted her out of the office with his knee.

Herrman left his bride five months after the elopement, and his father, tried unsuccessfully to have the marriage annulled. Mrs. Herrman then sued her father-in-law for $100,000, charging alienation of her husband's affections. The suit was dismissed.

Fails at Suicide

When police lifted her unconscious body from the interior of a sedan, which broke her fall, as she jumped from a window in the fifth story of the Hotel Brevoort, Fifth Avenue and Eighth Street, they found to her hand a poem entitled "Life," signed with her name. It told of groups of little children traveling along a pleasant road.

GIRL LEAPS FIVE STORIES WHILE DINING CHUMS

New York, Dec. 14.—Death would have meant something else than oblivion for Anna Sutcliffe, twenty-three, slight and pretty. When police lifted her unconscious body from the interior of a sedan, which broke her fall, as she jumped from a window in the fifth story of the Hotel Brevoort, Fifth Avenue and Eighth Street, they found to her hand a poem entitled "Life," signed with her name. It told of groups of little children traveling along a pleasant road.

TWO MILL OFFICIALS DROP DEAD SAME DAY

Hartford, Ct., Dec. 14.—When Fred N. Belding and Parley B. Leonard, executives of the Belding Brothers Silk Mill at Rockville, went to Northampton, Mass., to confer with Charles H. Prink, manager of the Belding Mills there, they found he had dropped dead of heart disease in the mill a few minutes before their arrival. They immediately called up James

INVENTOR DIES AS PLANE FALLS INTO SEA

London, Dec. 13 (Universal Cable).—Laurence B. Sperry, an American, one of the inventors of the Sperry gyroscopes, met his death when he fell into the sea off the coast of France in his airplane.

A coast guardman near the spot saw him circling over the coast line. Suddenly the machine nose-dived into the sea. A lifeboat put out and brought the machine ashore, but although the search was continued for hours the searchers failed to recover the body.

Several personal belongings marked with the initials "L. B. S." were picked up. Sperry, a United States naval lieutenant, had many close calls in his many years of flying. Once in 1916 he was picked up off Nantasket Beach in an exhausted condition after his plane ran out of gas and he was forced to make a landing. Another time he was forced to land in Great South Bay, off Babylon, L. I., and with a woman passenger, clinging to the wreckage of his plane until picked up. Many other times he was near death, for he was one of the foremost experimenters with the airplane.

Sperry was born in Chicago, Dec. 21, 1883, and was the first man to join the Naval Flying Corps, Class No. 4, in 1911.

ELOPERS BARELY ESCAPE ARREST AS BURGLARS

Newburyport, Dec. 14.—Margaret Emery, eighteen years old, of this city, with Judson B. Nutting, also eighteen, of Caldwell, N. J., eloped to Brooklyn, where they were married in the Hanson Place Methodist Episcopal Church, in which Nutting's parents were also married twenty-seven years ago.

Following the ceremony, the young couple went to the Nutting parental home at Caldwell for their honeymoon, and just escaped arrest as burglars when Charles A. Nutting, the bridegroom's father, returned unexpectedly from Florida and found his home had been entered. Young Nutting and his bride were sophomores at the New Hampshire State University at Durham, N. H., where the bride's uncle, Dr. Herbert Emery, is professor of zoology. Carl C. Emery, another uncle, is an assistant United States attorney in Boston.

The elder Nutting and his wife had gone to Florida for the winter, but urgent business of the New Jersey State Republican Committee brought him North hurriedly. When he entered his home and saw it had been opened, he was about to telephone the police when he discovered the honeymooners. He was just in time to lend a helping hand in pacifying the bride's father, an attorney of this city, who had learned of the elopement.

2 WHITE HOUSE SECRETARIES EMPLOYED BY MRS. COOLIDGE

Washington, Dec. 14.—Much has been said in recent months about the increased work of the President, but little or nothing has been heard about the increasing duties of the President's wife. An indication that the First Lady of the Land is having to share her part of the burden of the office was seen today in an announcement that Mrs. Coolidge had employed an assistant secretary.

Mrs. Coolidge had planned to go with one social secretary, as with the advent of the social season, invitations, requests, etc., have almost flooded the White House. Mrs. Coolidge insists that each letter must be read by her.

her shall receive an answer, and in order that the work may be done Miss Mary Randolph, who succeeded Mrs. Coolidge when Mr. Coolidge was Vice-President, has been engaged as assistant secretary.

BULLET JUST MISSES THEATRE MANAGER
Rockland, Dec. 14.—John J. Bowler, manager of the Rockland Opera house, had a narrow escape from serious accident while returning from Boston by train. As a station was passed a shot was heard and a bullet crashed through a window. Coolidge insists that each letter must be read by her.

That Hang-on Cough Must Go

Home Made Cough Mixture Best of All for the Cough That Sticks. Use Parmit

Make It Yourself In Two Minutes

The coughing season is on and every home should have a supply of the best cough remedy to be had, and as you can make this extremely efficient cough mixture so easily why pay high prices for the common kind.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parmit (double strength)—to be used a little amount at night and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it. Then when any member of the family starts coughing or catches cold in chest or throat, or has a cold, start, you are prepared as you should be.

And the children love to take it. With a good almost instant relief this home made cough mixture stops the loudest hang-on cough, and all because in it there is a substance (you easily get cough syrup) that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing, healing, and blessed relief comes at once.

And you should also bear in mind that any remedy that overcomes a cough, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal conditions.

Get Parmit and get better.

'LIBERALS' BAR LETTER FROM DISHOPS

A pastoral letter issued recently by the Honored Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America, which attacked Bishop William Lawrence for his liberal views, and insisting on a liberal interpretation of the Apostles' Creed, will not be read in the liberal Episcopal churches in the diocese of Massachusetts, it was learned today.

The Churchmen's Union, a society of liberal interpreters of the creed, in a public statement denounces the pastoral letter as being without authority and not canonically binding upon clergy and laity in the church. The union calls attention to the fact that only 46 of the 140 bishops were present and declares that in the execution of their purpose they have caused widespread distrust of mind.

President Bay State Episcopalian churchmen declare a rupture between the conservative and liberal elements in the church is not unlikely.

Charge of arbitrary suspension of discussion, promotion and mediation are being made against the conservative leaders by the liberals, who include practically all the Massachusetts diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The Modern Churchmen's Union, liberal, has already issued a statement attacking the utterance. A storm of similar protest from the clergy and the laity is expected.

The schism, according to many leaders, is at the bottom the difference between a faction that holds to articles of the faith that were adopted centuries ago and a faction which holds that the creed must be interpreted in the light of modern knowledge if the church is not to be made ridiculous and die.

STAY A WEEK AND SAVED MONEY

she had managed to tide herself over a period of illness.

Seven dollars are regularly taken out for food and clothing.

"The woman I live with treats me like a daughter now. She always gives me two sandwiches to take for my lunch, so I really get enough to eat. It was terrible in my room during the winter so she let me have a cot in her daughter's room for the same money. It's not up there under the roof in the summer so I'm nearly alone in her room."

Dora allowed $2 a week for clothes.

"I make all my own underwear except two undershirts. I get two for a quarter for them and they last me six months. Mrs. B.—lets me wash out my lingerie in the kitchen every night. They don't need to be ironed, because the blouses and chemises from work are washed. It costs twenty-five cents a yard and I need three yards for one set. I always have two sets.

"The housekeepers are wonderful people to buy clothes. I get two pairs of stockings at fifty cents a pair.

"I can always buy shoes for about $2.50. And I never pay more than $3 for a dress. I don't know how to make dresses and it's really cheaper to buy a good plain dress. I get one in the winter from some heavy material and one in the summer of some silk.

"Of course, the cloth isn't very good, but I take the dress off as soon as I get home and I put on one of the dresses that I wore when I took care of the children. That saves my dresses.

"Dresses are easy now because women wear felt hats all year round. I buy one for $1.50 and I use it until it is so shabby I can't wear it any longer.

"I always buy dark clothes, but a lot of the girls buy light dresses and when they get very dirty they have a dark outer, so it seems like having twice as many clothes."

Dora makes her handkerchiefs and socks sleeves, using the skirt of an old dress for a skirt. One Winter coat for $25 lasts two or three years. One spring coat for $15 serves two or three years.

SAVES FOR EMERGENCY.

No money is allowed for amusements. Anything extra that Dora can save is put aside for the emergency that seems to come in all their lives.

"One of the girls who spends all her extra money on clothes and doesn't eat enough got sick. She didn't have any money and I loaned her 10¢ but she never was able to pay it back and that was money I saved from my clothes. At first I used to keep on sending presents home and telling them what good they had, but I was tired of it. I don't do it, so I stopped. They haven't anything extra and I'd never ask them for it."

So Dora lives, scrimping for the money that she plans the economy of every penny, hoping the factory won't shut down, dreaming of a dim future when she'll earn $25 a week and be rich. At night she goes to bed early in order to get up on time in the morning.

"Saturday nights we walk in town and look in the windows," she says. "Sometimes follows us to the movies, but that isn't fun. Sunday I always sleep. I'm so dazed I don't go to the movies."

Remember the Boston American prints the third of this remarkable series of stories. It is the story of a girl who lives on a few dollars a week.

HAVERHILL ACCEPTS SHOE PEACE PACT
Haverhill, Dec. 14.—An overwhelming vote favoring the adoption of the peace pact drawn by the irate confederates of manufacturers, union representatives and citizens was recorded here at mass meetings of the workers.

With the first indications of the result of the voting manufacturers hastened to get in touch with their customers in the hopes of retaining business.

BANDITS HOLD UP WOMAN IN STORE
Two negro bandits, who have been terrorizing storekeepers in Roxbury and the South End, yesterday entered the grocery store of Mrs. Mary Palmer at No. 10 Sterling street, Roxbury, and while she was going to the point of a pistol, ordered her to keep quiet about it, they walked out, carrying a third member of the party, who stood on the sidewalk as lookout.

BOSTON PASTOR WITNESS FOR KLAN SLAYER

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 14.—The defense in the trial of Philip E. Fox, Ku Klux Klan leader, formerly of Boston, charged yesterday the murder of William R. Collins, Klan attorney, has entered a plea of insanity.

The plea was entered after the State read its case and the defense called its first witness, the Rev. Charles W. Duffield, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Atlanta, Ga., who procured church records of the defense.

and he immediately testified that he had made his home during the last few years at 108 N. State street, Boston.

Before the State read its case, two witnesses of the murder were called to testify.

EVIL WITNESS STORY.
In a tone that quivered with emotion, the Rev. Mr. Duffield testified that he had been a witness to the murder of William R. Collins, Klan attorney, who was shot by Fox, Klan leader, in the room of the latter at 108 N. State street, Boston.

CURLEY STATES HIS PLATFORM FOR GOVERNOR

Mayor Curley, before 400 persons gathered at Young's Hotel at a dinner tendered him by the 12-13-21 Club, announced the platform upon which he expects to be elected Governor of the State next year.

The mayor stated that he had 100,000 pledge cards signed at present and would have 500,000 by July 1 next. Later J. T. Towhill presented the Mayor with 2,500 pledge cards for the Norfolk district, a Republican stronghold. The club is made up of men who were the original Curley workers.

CURLEY'S PLATFORM.
Mayor Curley's platform, as he announced it, is:
Justice to capital and labor, absolute equality for both.
Modernization of the passenger and freight service of our railroads to secure efficiency and economy in their administration and to lighten the burden of our industries, too frequently made victims to political claims and ends.
Millions for permanent roadways, not a penny for political hacks.
An agricultural credit system which will give the farmer loans on terms that represent a low rate of interest, and enable him to equip his farm with the power and machinery essential to his successful operation.
The development of our commercial facilities.
Generous treatment of all our State wards.

Mayor Curley bitterly attacked the Mayor, in outlining his platform, and that he had no apprehension of the coming fight for control of the State. He urged all to stand and fight together as they did when he was elected Mayor and the nation would be won without the fight that the Republican party would like to see in the ranks of the Democracy.

The Employees Association of East Boston, in its stand on the open shop question, charging that it was fair to assume that the recent message of the Republican Party was a declaration of war against labor and the "live" call for the assembly of capital to begin the assault.

MAJOR LOUDLY HEERED.
The Mayor, during his speech, was frequently interrupted by "three cheers for the next governor." At the close of his speech City Councilor David J. Bowley, on behalf of the members of the club presented the Mayor with a huge bouquet of American Beauty roses. For Mrs. Curley.

President Joseph A. Bourke, commander of public works provided Francis A. McLaughlin was trust master, Treasurer John J. Joyce, chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners, proved an excellent

ASKS CHURCH AND FOR EUROPE

Columbus, O., Dec. 14 (AP)—American churches must go to the aid of European Protestants if it will furnish, the Rev. Dr. Charles S. Cummings, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, declared today at the annual meeting of the executive committee.

"There is a crisis," he said, "of growing to us and of the closing French power, at exceptional a situation of benevolent and education. General de Gaulle, the united efforts on the part of all the American churches working side by side in a common cause can keep the whole fabric of European Protestantism from crumbling. The fact is, we are one of the few nations in the world that have the superior view of the present."

DAYLIGHT SAVING RAPPEL BY GRANCE

Worcester, Dec. 14.—Delegates to the annual convention of the Massachusetts State Grange will convene in Worcester to discuss the daylight saving law at their session in Mechanics Hall. They advance their opinion that it was a detriment to the farmers and of no advantage to others not directly interested in agriculture. It was also voted to hold the next annual session in Springfield in 1924.

Dobynes to Entertain Much in the South at Their New Palm Beach Villa, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

"EL BRAVO" is the picturesque name which the George A. Dobynes have selected for their new Palm Beach villa.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobynes only recently closed their North Shore place at Beverly Farms—known as "Ingleside"—and are now basking in the warming smile of the Palm Beach sun.

The Dobynes are regular members of the Winter colony at Florida's famous stamping ground, but this is their first season at "Ingleside." The place, which has just been completed, I believe, is said to be a very magnificent affair.

During the months to come the master and mistress of "El Bravo" will entertain not a few of their Boston friends sojourning here. The Dobynes are among the most extensive entertainers at the Florida resort.

While the saxophones will wall and the trombones boom, the "youngsteries" will make the wax disappear from the Copley-Plaza ballroom floor.

For tonight comes the first major supper dance of the season, and all the most attractive matrons as well as the girls who have been out a few seasons, will add to the sartorial display.

Among the patronesses for these much-joyed events is Mrs. Dudley R. Howe of Brookline.

RECENTLY joining the staidness of the South was Mrs. Nathaniel S. Simpkins, whose place

SUZANNE AND PHYLLIS RICHARDSON

The Misses Suzanne and Phyllis Richardson—twins and buds—were given a dance last night by their aunt, Mrs. Frederic L. W. Richardson. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Richardson.

at Beverly Farms is known as "Brookfield."

Mrs. Simpkins has been visiting with friends in New York, en route to Washington and the South, where she will pass the winter.

Of bright red letter importance to the debutante contingent is the large ball Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Webster are giving tonight at the Somerset for their son, daughter, Miss Polly Webster.

SPEAKING of deb functions—one of the very prettiest girls at the dance last night at "Lanark," the Charles River estate of the Frederic L. W. Richardson, was the daughter of the house, Miss Margaret Richardson. She is a brunette with exceptionally lovely coloring.

The dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. Richardson in honor of their twin nieces, the Misses Suzanne and Phyllis Richardson—debutante daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Richardson of Brookline—and Miss Edith Parker, ball daughter

HIRSH JOHNSON ASSAILS G. O. P. COMMITTEE

Washington, Dec. 14 (Universal)—Senator Hiram Johnson denounced the action of the Republican National Committee enlarging the apportionment of delegates from Southern States as a "regulation of instructions given by the last national convention." He declared that procedure marks the formal opening of the campaign between him and President Coolidge for the 1924 nomination.

"The committee's action with an eye to the election of Coolidge," the Senator said in a formal statement issued from his office after a long conference with Frank B. Rowland, his campaign manager, "analyzes itself."

Senator Johnson surveyed the efforts of the committee's ruling and showed that States which have never cast an electoral vote for the Republican nominee have been given power in the convention equal to that of States which have always been Republican.

"Southern Carolina, voted 2400 votes for President Harding. North Carolina 1150 votes, and Senator Johnson 'Under the mandate of the national convention of 1920 North Carolina was awarded four delegates and Mississippi four. That action was justified by the mandate. The mandate of the last convention was contemptuously ignored and North Carolina is now given eleven and Mississippi twelve, a total for the two States polling 14,000 Harding votes of twenty-three delegates."

ONLY OFFICE HOLDERS.

"In those States there is no real Republican party. There is nothing in them except a few office holders absolutely under the direction and control of the administration."

Senator Johnson declared that notwithstanding the committee's action he is going ahead rapidly with his plans to make a fight in all the States where Presidential primaries are to be held.

VEGETABLES SPOIL IN FARM CELLARS

Gardner, Me., Dec. 14—The continued warm weather has caused considerable worry among the farmers who have apples and vegetables stored in their cellars, awaiting future marketing as some of them are already beginning to spoil. Farmers report that if this weather continues there will be a large loss on this account, as there is no way to keep the cellars cool enough.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

"USE LIQUID ARVON"

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

LIQUID ARVON

TUCKER BOY'S DAD BEFORE GRAND JURY

New York, Dec. 14—Should sixteen be suborned from torturing after they have been put together of the bonds of matrimony?

That is one of the problems which confronted the Hudson County Grand Jury today when the alleged irregularity of the marriage of Burton Tucker, sixteen, to Mrs. Simpson, wealthy hotel owner, fortune-teller, came before the jury.

Burton's father was to appear with additional witnesses that the pair asked for a license in another city and were refused because Burton gave his age as sixteen.

Prosecutor M. Mahon said he was ready to ask indictments against Burton and his friends for perjury in their license application.

McMahon said he might ask indictments against several persons besides the Tuckers on charges of conspiracy to defame the New Jersey marriage law.

HOLLAND'S FAR-EAST COFFEE—Everlastingly Fresh

4 Reasons Why You Far-East Should Demand COFFEE

- 1st. It takes less per pound than many other brands to give the desired strength.
- 2d. The richness of flavor and absence of bitterness are points in its favor.
- 3d. The examination entirely normal for genuine coffee. The aroma is most appetizing.
- 4th. The tin container affords protection from air and dust. Guaranteed everlastingly fresh.

BOSTON COLLEGE NEEDS DEFENSIVE HELP
Although the Boston College hockey team met with an upset against the Boston Hockey Club, they will have a good team this season on the ice. The star runner leads from the heights of their defensive play.

WASHINGTON HUSKIES TO BATTLE CADETS IN COAST GAME

GRID CHAMPS TO CLASH IN ROSE TOURNAMENT

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 14.—When football warriors of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis face the University of Washington Huskies in the Tournament of Roses bowl at Pasadena, California, on New Year's Day in an intercollegiate tilt which promises to make national history, they will battle one of the strongest eleven that ever represented the purple-and-gold institution.

Not since the days of Coach Oliver Dodge, now mentor at Cornell, who sent out this undefeated eleven in the period ending 1914, has the Sea University boasted such a powerful aggregation.

Advances the football team of the University of California's capped Tar Western football players in finishing at the top of Pacific Coast conference tables, Washington played a great schedule, losing only to California.

The Huskies finished runners-up in the coast conference, champions in the South and conference, and ranked around among all eleven of the United States in the number of points scored during the 1923 season.

TIPPED BY COR-VIS.
Washington rolled up a total of 214 points, more than being scored by all 11 teams combined, while having lost only one game.

At the time of the play in the Pacific coast, the Huskies were the only team to have won all their games, and they were the only team to have scored more than 100 points.

Time Washington's most noted players were in the line of defense, and they were the only team to have scored more than 100 points.

TIGER JACK TO BOX ANYBODY WHO'S READY

EVERYBODY CAN SEE AT MECHANICS GYM
Manager Bob T. Kelly, who will stage the basketball game at Mechanics Gym, Monday night between Nick Altrock and Al Sears and the Boston Whip's, is planning a plate glass box behind the basket.

Many fans who attended last year's game protested because they were unable to see some of the game's make.

New York, Dec. 14.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, arrived in New York today to map out his 1924 plan of campaign.

He and Jack Kearns, his manager, probably will confer with Tex Rickard regarding a return match with Luis Firpo and possibly other engagements, but the titleholder probably will not climb into the ring again before the outdoor season.

"All of the little challenges are in their own hands," said Dempsey.

"Tom Gibbons, Harry Wells and Luis Firpo are the boys who seem most entitled to a crack at the crown and they'll get it."

"Whether an eliminator tournament will be arranged, I don't know, but unless such a tournament is arranged and the best of the three contenders decided, I'm going to take them on one after the other."

"Jack came here to go to work," Kearns declared. "He has been offered a valuable fight in Madison Square Garden, Monday night."

The champion may appear either in an exhibition or as a referee of one of the bouts connected with the Christmas and New Year's season at Madison Square Garden, Monday night.

STASIAK DOWNS TIPTS COACHES TO REMAIN IN 1924

TURNER IN QUICK FALLS

The largest gathering of wrestling fans this season witnessed the Grand Opera case to see Stanley Stasiak, the Polish Hercules defeat Jack Turner of Dakota. Stasiak won in straight falls.

The Polynesian wrestler won the first fall after 45 minutes of the tough wrestling, with an inside crowd and body hit. The second fall was scored in the time. Turner was recovered quickly.

John Klonis, the Greek grappler, met a new comer to the wrestling game in Bill Eddy of Lowell, but after 20 minutes battling at a hard fought pace dropped the Florida City star, with a halfelson and body adance.

Stasiak and proved the big surprise of the evening as Marshall was a great favorite. The trick was done by Stasiak in 23 minutes and 10 seconds with a double wrist lock and body adance.

MINORS NEXT MEETING AT HARTFORD
Chicago, Dec. 14.—The 1924 convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs (the "minors" joint organization) was awarded to Hartford, Ct. Ten other cities were bidding for it.

The invitation to come to Hartford was extended by President Dan O'Neil of the Eastern League, and it was currently reported that it was chosen because the majority probably would meet in New York next year, only a few hours later from Hartford, in case the minors and majors wanted to get together.

Bostonians should make no important decision while under the spell of the blues.—D. I. Jacobs, contractor.

Equality of Women Spreads

Result of Tuesday's Election Shows Independence of the Women's Vote

The vote this week of the French Chamber of Deputies indicates that in a very short time the women of France over twenty-five years of age will be enfranchised and will participate with the men in the government of France, both as to electing the public officials and as to eligibility for election as public officials.

Thus the equality of women with men in the political world is spreading throughout civilization. Some observing historians once asserted that in all periods of history those nations which most recognized the rights of women, and in which women were held in highest respect, were always the most powerful and the most progressive nations. Certainly they were the most progressive and most civilized, and were never distinguished for effeminacy.

It is a peculiar thing that the recognition of the equality of women has never in the history of the nations diminished the masculinity, the virility, the fighting power of the nation. In the ancient world the two nations in which women probably exercised the greatest influence were Athens and Rome—speaking generally, Greece and Rome—and those were the two nations which, in the ancient world, most distinguished themselves in the arts, sciences and in war.

Women who are developed by responsibility and authority tend to produce virile men and to stimulate virility. There never has been the slightest historical foundation for the fear expressed by a great many of our good men who opposed woman suffrage for instance, our good friend Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts always had a terror that woman suffrage would make us an effeminate nation, and he really believes it. Yet we never could find any historical basis for his belief.

The French women are being rewarded by the ballot for the heroic part they played in the recent war.

Whether woman suffrage is going to make a great deal of difference in the direction of human progress is in my opinion, no one can tell. But we have had enough tests to know that women do not vote as women any more than men vote as men.

An examination of the returns Tuesday morning on the question of equal pay for the women teachers in our high schools indicates that women did not vote for women as such, but voted on the question according to the way they saw it, without reference to the element of the sex.

Modern Newspaper

Why It Gives Space to Certain Happenings, Ridicule a Strong Weapon

A correspondent writes us to complain of the space which "the modern newspaper" gives to such episodes as the marriage of a 28-year-old school teacher to a 69-year-old widow and a 19-year-old boy to his 48-year-old great-uncle. Our correspondent denounces "this tendency of modern journalism" as "cheap and debasing."

Of course, the only serious offense it gives is the offense against taste and habit and against the sense of proportion and values. But if we assume that a newspaper ought to give space in proportion to the importance of the thing, it is to determine the standards of importance? Is it to be decided by the judgment of a statesman, or of a moralist, or of a sporting man, or of a sportsman, or of a cynic, or of those who love excitement or tragedy? Obviously, the proportion of space would be different measured by the standards of each of these types of judges.

On the other hand, the importance might be measured by the good or the harm which the publication tends to do. By that standard our correspondent would offend say that the stories of these misalliances should be wholly condemned. But his conclusion would be based upon immature consideration.

Now there is no law against these kinds of marriages, and it is not desirable that there should be a law against them if it can be avoided. Yet they are so atrociously absurd that we should have to have some sort of prohibition if they became more common. What makes them so uncommon? Obviously, it is public ridicule which is often more powerful than all sentences. What makes public ridicule? Obviously, it is the ridicule of the newspapers which put the names of the participants lightly in everybody's mouth. It is when they arrive up in self-contempt and want to crawl in a hole and pull the hole in after them.

This is one of the great many functions of the newspapers today. They give power to public opinion, make it universal and in a way help to standardize it.

The newspaper accounts of murders make it easier to detect the guilty and punish them and also make it harder for corrupt officials to traffic with it. The publicity which is being given to run-running and bootlegging is making things harder and harder for the bootlegger and the run-runner. Our whole social and political system is functioned by publicity.

Do not condemn the modern newspaper thoughtlessly. Remember that it takes all kinds of people to make up a democracy and all kinds of minds establish all kinds of values for news, and, like circumstances, these values are variable and transient.

Things to Think About.

Miss Becton, professional English swimmer, arrived in this country, say woman will never equal man as an athlete. As compared with the ant, man is no athlete whatever. In fact, he is a hopeless molly-coddle. If in proportion to his size, man had the lifting power of the ant, he could pick up a 240,000-pound locomotive and run off with it.

The government of Ontario offers bounties for wolf scalps and Stanley Carlson of St. Paul has gone forth to lift them. He is clad in a spiked warboe containing 1,200 nails placed at intervals of half an inch. He plans to let the wolves nibble at him, then hit them with an axe.

In Berlin the motion picture houses flash upon the screen the picture of a murderer together with a picture warrant which authorizes anybody in the audience to arrest him.

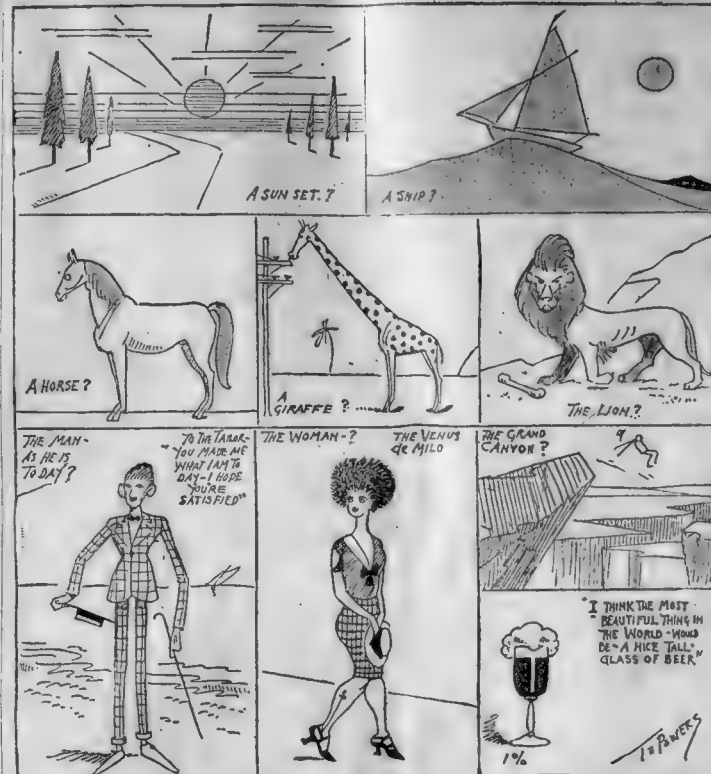

The windmills of our forefathers come out of temporary eclipse. In Germany they are used to mine invisible coal—the power of the also and send it into electricity to run their machinery. Windmills neither strike nor proffer.

Will Your Widow Dress as Well as Your Wife?

Let me list a few other alternative plans to those I've outlined, for you to think over. You want to educate your children. Insure them? or yourself with an endowment policy that will be ready for cashing when they come to the age of high school or college. You want to have your mortgage paid off if you die. There is a special plan for that. You want to protect your self against accident or sickness. There is an easy way.

To be continued tomorrow.

Little Girl Needs Clothes

I am writing you these few lines to let you know that we are feeling well and hope to hear the same from you. If you have some clothes, size 12, I will be very glad to have them. I have no father and my mother has three children, a girl and two boys. One is Albert. He is four years old. Alfonso is ten. My name is Alfonso. The State gives me some clothes a week. My mother has to buy stockings and shoes and wood and coal and clothing. I am in the fifth grade. APOFNSIA.

Sweaters and Skirts

Editor Helping Hand: I have the following things which I would be glad to give to some needy folks. Two sweaters, two skirts, two dresses, all for a girl of fourteen to sixteen, and a woman's dress, size 34.

Thank you. You have been sent the name of a family who will be very grateful for these things.

Needs Comfortable Chair

Editor Helping Hand: There is a poor woman who lives next door to me who cannot walk and has to spend the day on a hard chair, which is very uncomfortable. If any of the readers have a chair with a soft seat, they would like to give away. I am sure it would make her Christmas very happy.

MISS A. K.

Offers Winter Coat

Editor Helping Hand: I have read of a family who work you are doing and I have some things that might be of use. I have a heavy winter coat (woman's), also; a suit coat, size 36; a sweater, size 36; and a pair of practically new overalls, about size 8. W. D. Thank you. You have been

France and Her Loans Editor Boston American: Of the $300 million dollars France borrowed from us, never to repay, she expended half for her own uncalculated military armament and the other half for the maintenance of her numerous armies. You may be sure France will know how to exact from them prompt payment of interest and of the capital at maturity of the loans. Besides, these few tens are allowed only to buy from the French government abandoned United States stores, which they practically got for nothing, and from French manufacturers, a fourfold profit, as we may readily see.

ONE CASE IN MANY

Last Christmas morning, when most parents were gathered with their little about their Christmas tree, thoroughly enjoying them, a former mother and child entered the Baker Fund office. The lady of both was prostrate from their shoe. They had walked from their home in Jamaica Plain, about four miles. Five other children remained at home. We sent that tired mother and her little child home in an automobile with a parcel containing twenty pounds of food. Perhaps, dear reader, 100,000 generous contributions purchased that parcel. There are many cases similar to this one year crying aloud for assistance. It costs $25 to feed one family. May we add your name to the roll of honor?

More Than Her Bit

Editor Helping Hand: A short time ago I wrote in for help in behalf of a family I have in pretty bad circumstances. You sent me the address of Mrs. A. V. M. of Beantown. I got in touch with her, and I want you to know that she certainly did more than her bit. So far she has mailed me three big boxes. There were over a dozen million suits of various sizes, shoes, stockings, rubbers, overalls, bedding, and a lovely machine. I really can't remember all she sent, there were so many. And now she writes that she is sending still more and has interested others in the family I spoke of.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON THE QUALITY OF REFINEMENT

By Dr. Frank Crane

REFINEMENT is a certain quality in a man or woman that corresponds to a certain quality in handiwork.

Human beings are spirits that live housed in flesh. They exist in a world of material things. The only way these spirits can express themselves is by using these material things.

The whole world of matter is but a collection of tools for spirits to employ. It is the alphabet by means of which spirits utter themselves.

Therefore, when we want to express any attribute of the spirit we have to borrow terms from matter.

If one is particularly stubborn we say he is hard, like a stone. If he is impressionable, easily affected by emotion, we say he is soft or tender, again using the image of something we can touch with our fingers. If one's mind is keen and alert we say he is bright, comparing him to a mirror, or sharp, comparing him to a knife. So we call a cheerful person sunny, and a morose spirit gloomy or cloudy.

To understand what is meant by refinement of character, therefore, we must consider what we mean by fineness in material things.

Compare two pictures, one painted by a schoolboy, and the other, let us say, a landscape by Corot; or two images, one a snow man which children have made, and the other a statue by Rodin; or a crude ornament made by South Sea islanders, and a brooch of exquisite workmanship from a shop on the Rue de la Paix.

One of these sets of things excites our amused contempt, we place little value upon them and we do not care to preserve them, except for reasons aside from their workmanship. We call them crude and common.

What the master has and the apprentice has not is skill. The master can utter himself. He has the power of expression. The amateur is dumb and impotent. The fine ideas in him cannot get out.

And behind skill there lie long and continued effort, self-discipline, the restraint of wayward desires, the daily compulsion by the will, the unflinching determination to succeed.

Genius may account for mastery to some extent, but genius that is not strong enough to produce persistent hard work never results in refinement.

So the thing we call "fineness" in a man or a woman, that quality we all so covet and admire, is precisely the same sort of thing that pleases us in the craftsmanship of a beautiful piece of Chinese embroidery, an exquisite lacquered box from Japan, or a delicate cup and saucer from Sèvres.

Things are produced by the same thing—finest practices and hard work; and if by genius, then by the kind of genius that induces infinite practice and hard work.

TAKE CONGRESSIONAL ACTS WITH SALT

By Herbert Kaufman

KEEP a mental salt cellar handy. The first acts of every new Congress are staged entirely for home audiences. Nine-tenths of the statutes being introduced at Washington will never emerge from the pigeon-hole toward which they're aimed.

Our lawmakers are simply making early-season gestures. Please remember that they're all been home, mending fences and promising earth, moon and stars to the whittlers' society and encephaloid club.

The Constitution won't be altered into a crazy quilt, however much members threaten its integrity.

The average American does not approve sudden or wholesale patching of our bill of rights. Jefferson's formula for change will still satisfy most of us.

Unfortunately, the same caution is lacking for the Coolidge Hughes brand of statesmanship. It smacks too much of Wall Street and European influence.

Harding's death temporarily abated an intra-party rebellion which gathers fresh impetus with the disclosure of his successor's World Court and reparations policies.

Harmon Johnson now counts upon a dozen national committee men beyond calculations a week ago. Anyone reading between the lines of Raymond Robbins' recent speech would venture to assert that he'll soon climb on the Californian's band wagon.

The old guard isn't any too sure of King of Connecticut, and Howell of Nebraska apparently has convictions of his own.

McAdoo hovering about the hat-ring, even if his federal aid is confiscated, in it, delivers a charge of hot shot and attitude and calls it a "severe test" for rate relief with no guarantee of results in the end.

The ex-Secretary of the Treasury first commends the proposition to give earned income special consideration; then he tells the taxation feather from Coolidge's cap and sticks it in his own.

Crystal gazers, looking ahead, don't behold a very lively campaign in the offing.

TALK TO CAMPHOR TREES

BY MARY MENAUGH FORHART of the way, in its effort to come up through the air for the sunlight and air necessary to its existence.

A TRAVELER writing of his experiences on the island of Sumatra, the largest one of the Malay group, where camphor trees flourish and yield their sum, tells the following:

Before the natives begin their work, they reverence and adore these trees. In a special language, called camphor-talk, believing they make the trees understand the necessity for this custom.

This custom may be interpreted to illustrate a world-old belief held by many of our day. That all plant life has ability to think. One may give or take in the fact that a tree may find its way around a stone or actually push aside objects.

It is, that is, quite possible.

Medbury Says—

By John P. Medbury

WITH so many robbers on the loose, the public must be armed, and the chief of police says that a whistle is a much better weapon than a gun.

MAYBE he's right, but who ever heard of, shooting a burglar with a whistle?

THOSE little tin things may be good protection, but you could do more damage with a saxophone.

IT would take a lot of strength to crack a robber's skull with a whistle.

IF you're going to arm yourself with musical instruments, the best thing to do is to fill a violin case full of rocks.

YOU couldn't very well hit a man over the head with a piano.

WHEN you're walking along the street with your girl, you can't very well carry a bass drum in one hand and a photograph in the other.

THE best way to do is to take another guy around with you all day long to blow the whistle in case of trouble.

THE only thing is, he'll probably be so busy running that he won't be doing much blowing.

OF course you can solve this difficulty by putting whistles in his shoes.

THE great trouble with police whistles is that they usually attract more burglars than they do cops.

A NEW YORK man found himself held up by one robber last week so he blew his whistle.
In two minutes twenty-seven thousand dollars were in his watch and chain.

SO if you're afraid of stick-up men and have no weapons, the best thing to do is to move down to the police station.

TO BE A BIG MAN REQUIRES ENERGY.

Isn't it true that you would be a much bigger man than you are,
if it did not require so much energy?

You would be more successful in your undertakings if you had and used more energy.

When you are "running" your luck and complaining that you have not made the advance you should in your calling, have you stopped to think that you need more energy to put it over and you would not give that?

Energetic individuals may have been the price of success for you but you would not practice it.

And isn't it true that the man who spends all his time thinking about his business, who wants to talk about it, who is careful in every detail about it, is very successful in his?

It is tiresome to you because you would not apply yourself to any job as this man does, and yet you wonder why you are not as successful as he.
